

Susanne Callahan, M.A.
Assistant Vice President, Planning and Development

Susanne Callahan has more than 15 years experience in community health. As Assistant Vice President, Planning and Development, she oversees federal grant proposals and budgets and participates in developing new programs related to primary health care and health education. These include marketing strategies and community outreach activities and re-engineering of systems and procedures at the Institute's thirteen health centers.

Prior to joining the Institute, her work focused on adolescent and women's health issues. She served as Associate Director of Ambulatory Care at Elmhurst Hospital Center where she developed and managed a comprehensive primary care center for adolescents.

Ms. Callahan received an M.A. in International Education Development from Columbia University and a B.A. from the State University of New York at Albany. She also worked and studied in Spain for three years.
